You will:

- Manage digital communication projects
- Craft compelling narratives for various communication media supports
- Brainstorm communication ideas and campaigns tactics
- Manage client's social media accounts
- Work directly with the owner and her external partners
- Correspond with clients

We are looking for you if you are:

- Current or graduated Master student of Business, Marketing, Communication
- Quick thinker with excellent ability to analyze and synthesize
- Skilled in written communication in French and English
- Excellent project manager
- Organized and detailed-oriented
- Ambitious and responsible
- Interested in entrepreneurship and social media
- Native French speaker, fluent in English, German a strong plus
- But also: a foodie!

We offer:

- An opportunity to evolve in a growing firm and develop a full range of professional skills
- A space to connect your academic knowledge with the whole business spectrum
- A high energy, positive entrepreneurial environment
- Flexible hours
- And yummy food.
